- Suggestions ➔ for the 11\(^{th}\) FYP

Premise

Why emphasize on land rights to women?

- Women have been primary tillers /fishers /gatherers
- Lack of other sources of livelihoods, especially for women - Land is indicative, we actually mean all resources
- Women use resources more efficiently / sustainably
- Their names not included into titles, due to patriarchal norms despite legislation in their favour
- Lack of ownership, brings constraints on use and control
- Women contribute to development but do not benefit
- Govt land distribution policies are further alienating poor from land and other natural resources – water
- Not granting land rights to women is a violation of human rights (provided by constitution and international covenants such as Universal Human Rights Declaration, CEDAW)
Preconditions for effective & gender just FYP

- Framework of substantive equity
- Pro women land reforms (Strict and time bound implementation of ceiling, inclusion of women’s names in land titles, priority to locals)
- Priority to marginalized sections (Muslims, indigenous, women headed families..)
- Implementation through local self governance (and proposed tripartite labour boards)
- Greater support for women’s participation in PRIs / decision making processes
- Gender cells across all ministries
